VALUABLE

Timber Lands

And Mill Property

FOR SALE.

THE subscriber, desirous of disposing of all his interest in Timber Lands and mills, will sell on favorable terms the following:

One-Half Township No. 5, Range 4, Oxford County.

The whole township contains twenty-six thousand (26,000) acres; is heavily timbered with spruce, estimated at sixty to eighty millions, all of which stands within near and easy hauling distance of the Magalloway river or its branches, which runs through the town, or Parmachena Lake, which is embraced within its limits.

Also 10,000 Acres of Land in the Town of Byron, Oxford Co., well covered with large Spruce timber. Swift river and its branches run through these lands and empty into the Androscoggin below Rumford Falls.

Also 1100 Acres Timber and Wood Land in Town of Gorham, N. H.

two miles above the Alpine House, on the line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, and the banks of the Androscoggin river. There is a large quantity of wood on these lots which, from its proximity to the Railroad, is steadily increasing in value.

Also 2500 Acres Lands in the Towns of Albany and Stoneham.

near the village of North Waterford, Oxford County. This land is covered with thrifty sapling Pine timber, standing near Crooked river, which runs through the tract. Logs put into Crooked river can be run to Saccarappa, or by hauling four to five miles they can be put into the Saco. There is a good mill privilege, with a single saw mill on the tract; distance to the canal at Harrison ten miles, to the railroad at South Paris twelve miles. The land is valuable for settling purposes after being cleared of timber.

Also 435 Shares of Stock in the Lewiston Steam Mill Company, the whole capital stock being represented by 827 shares. The property of the company consists of a Steam Saw Mill, capable of manufacturing five million feet of long lumber, with a proportionate amount of clapboards, shingles and laths. About fifteen acres land in the city of Lewiston, well located for building purposes, and thirty thousand acres of timber land, well located on the Androscoggin river and its branches, from which but a small quantity of the timber has been cut.

THE NATIONAL

Life Insurance Company.

OF NEW YORK.

We take pleasure in calling the attention of our readers to the remarkably strong statement made by that sound and well-conducted institution, the National Life Insurance Company, which may be found in their advertisement in another column. The Company has been able to declare dividends this year, after making ample reserves to meet any possible contingencies, of fifty per cent, on life policies, and of thirty five per cent, on endowment policies. One of the excellent characteristics of the National Life is that of non-forfeiture of all policies on the principle of non forfeiture adopted by the Massachusetts companies.

[The 'INSURANCE SPECTATOR' says of the NATIONAL.]

"In all its plans we observe a positive and unmistakable evidence of an intention to extend to policy-holders the utmost liberality consistent with safety. Its ratio of reserved assets to actual liabilities, is larger than that of some of the oldest companies. It aims to get business without resorting to false pretenses. It regards QUALITY AND PRUDENCE more than mere volume of business; thus, it has been enabled to avoid many of the extravagances which are too often the condition of a sudden and rapid growth, and to pay dividends to its policy-holders equal to that of the largest and most successful companies—never having paid less than FIFTY PER CENT. on Life Policies and THIRTY-FIVE PER CENT. on Endowment and it has always PAID IT, and not merely DECLARED IT. We repeat then, emphatically, that the NATIONAL is a good Company to insure in—SOUND, ECONOMICAL AND LIBERAL."

The Dawn of a New Era in the History of Machine Threads.

IT is with the greatest satisfaction that we are enabled to call the attention of the People of New England to the C. S. I. COTTON THREAD now being manufactured by the WILLSON MILLS. This Thread is made expressly for Family Use, AND SOLD BY WEIGHT, each spool containing one half ounce, exclusive of weight of spool. It is made from the very best COMBED SEA ISLAND COTTON, manufactured on the most improved machinery, in mill built at a cost of $1,000,000. We do not hesitate to warrant it equal in strength, superior in smoothness, and cheaper (quality and considered) than any so called 200 yard Spool Cotton in the market, whether imported or American.

We confidently believe that its introduction is destined to create a revolution in the "COTTON WORLD," as a stern and impartial test of same by the most competent authority fully justified the highest anticipations of its most earnest advocates.

We invite for this thread a thorough trial by every-body interested in SPOOL COTTON.

JOHN H. LYNDE, - - PROPRIETOR.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 8, 1870.

The excellent exhibit of our finances under this administration raises the question, whether we should use the surplus to pay off the national debt, or whether we shall better meet the expectations of the people by applying our abundance to a material reduction of taxation? The verdict seems to be in favor of reducing taxation, and to postpone the payment of the national debt, or at least to diminish the amount yearly reduced. The emphatic manner in which the Governor in his address takes the ground that, as the benefits arising from our great expenses to save the nation are as much for posterity as for us, and therefore we should not bear the whole burden, will meet the popular view. The people demand that relief be administered as soon and as fully as possible, considering our extraordinary condition. In spite of all precautions taxation will fall to a certain extent unequally upon the laboring classes, and the government must keep in view this idea. Let us apply three-fourths at least of our present surplus by reducing taxation, the balance will liquidate the debt as rapidly as should be required of this generation.

The Cuban cause seems to be prospering, however the Spaniards may lie about it. As we predicted, their recent attempt to deceive the people of this country by bogus proclamations proves only to be in keeping with the general line of their policy. But it appears that the tables are somewhat turned now. A letter of the 1st from Havana says that the general bitterness of feeling in that city at the continued burning of estates in the interior will cause disastrous outbreak. It adds that the Cubans do not fail in the conflicts of late, especially in the Eastern Department, where much fighting is now going on. In one combat several companions of Spanish volunteers went over in a body to the Cubans, and these desertions are now frequently reported the complaint being that the Spaniards are so hard pressed in some sections that they are almost starved. Some of the stories are undoubtedly overdrawn, but the substance must be true, else why do we not get more correct details from the Spanish authorities who have all the information at hand?

The Belfast Journal still keeps up the old "stop thief" cry to shield its friends of the Lost Cause. It asserts for the thousandth time (and don't seem out of breath at all) that the radicals "destroyed our own steam and sailing marine." Did the Radicals run the Alabama? Our impression is that Captain or "Admiral" Semmes as the Democratic papers delight to call him, was always a Democrat who never scratched his ticket. If there was any Republican who burnt our shipping or stole our forts we are deficient in the "late unpleasantness." It is useless Mr Journal, to raise all this dust about the eyes of the people they can see the red hand of the rebel Democracy clean through it.

The Democratic papers are goading on the few temperance men who are blind to practical results to organize independently for the next campaign. Democracy got but little encouragement from the same tactics last year, and their hope is heavily developed upon their interesting craniums to find any crumbs of comfort in any other trial. When will our friends learn to despise the taunts of our enemies? When will they learn that by divisions they distract the friends of the law, and gratify the rum interest? When will they learn that their work is in aiding and strengthening the enforcement of the law?

The Lewiston Weekly Journal, containing the Governor's address, was sent to and read by its subscribers before it was read to the Legislature—an act of bad faith which was never attempted to our knowledge but once before,—in the case of a President's Message, —for which the reporter who obtained it was summarily expelled from the Reporter's Gallery, and the newspaper publishing it was doomed to disgrace amongst its contemporaries. Why and how was this done?

One majority again ruled the course at Augusta, Mr Foster having received 58 for Speaker in the Republican caucus against 57. Another instance in which one is as good as a thousand.

The Gardiner Journal is informed that the Whig & Courier is edited in the office. Were our brother on the rugged but Moral banks at the confluence of the Cobbosseecontee and Kennebec to sue us for libel (for example) would be hesitate whom to set upon as the "parties of the second part?"

[Reported for the Whig & Courier.]

MAINE LEGISLATURE

AUGUSTA, Jan 7th, 1870

SENATE

Communications were received from Hons F M Drew and Parker P Burleigh, Secretary of State and Land Agent elect, signifying their acceptance of the respective offices. Also from Hons U O. Bracket, Wm. Deering, Wm Rogers, Joseph W Porter, and D K Hobart, Councillors elect, signifying their acceptance. The Councillors were subsequently qualified in Convention of both Houses.

The Secretary of State laid before the Senate the annual reports of the Insane Hospital, Bank and Insurance Examiner, Railroad Commissioners and State Liquor Commissioners.

The Railroad Commissioners' and State Liquor Commissioners' reports were laid on the table and one thousand copies each ordered to be printed.

Mr Carvill introduced an order for the printing of three thousand copies of the Governor's address, which on motion of Mr Webb was amended so as to read "two thousand, and the order passed.

Order that the Senate meet on Mondays at 11 A M, and on Saturdays at 9 A. M, was passed.

Mr Cushing introduced the following—

Ordered. That a Committee of three on the part of the Senate with such as the House may join, be appointed to take into consideration and report, what proceedings, if any, it is proper and desirable, for this Legislature to make to testify the respect of the State for the memory of the late George Peabody.

The President appointed Messrs. Cushing, Lang and Lindsey on the part of the Senate, and Messrs Bliss of Washington, Bradford of Eastport, Dickey of Fort Kent, Whidden of Calais, Farwell of Augusta, Barker of Stetson, and Reed of Waldoboro', were joined by the House.

Adjourned till Monday next at 11 A M.

HOUSE.

In the House there was no business of importance.

The order from the Senate in regard to the memory of the late George Peabody, caused some discussion. Messrs. Bliss and Dickey supported the order and Messrs. Bradford of Eastport and Vose of Winterport, spoke against it.

Mr Vose said,—I rise Mr Speaker to inquire what reasons can be assigned to this House why such distinguished honors should be paid to the remains of George Peabody? What benefits have Maine or her institutions derived from his munificence.

Adjourned to Monday at 11 A. M.

EUROPEAN LETTERS

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

My second letter brought me and my fellow travelers as far as the Long Wharf at Liverpool. Upon landing we all looked about us for a moment, then hurried away to the long range of low buildings opening toward the water, and surrounded by an iron fence on the city side, where our trunks and other luggage were to be examined. This is an ordeal which most people dread. It is to be dreaded, not because we anticipate detection in any nefarious practice, for no American would be suspected of smuggling into Eng, land any of the staple productions of our country—such as wheat, or corn or sewing machines, or lumber—in a traveler's valise or carpet-sack, or trunk—but because of the opening or upsetting of everything you possess, in search of cigars, or tobacco in some form, which is the article most commonly imported by Americans in this secret way. True enough, American ladies do not smoke and it may be imagined that their luggage might escape the search; but only let this fact be known, that ladies trunks are not examined, and their luggage would soon be loaded down with the mysterious weed. So everything has to be opened for inspection. But I can say this emphatically, that the work is done with as much delicacy as could be possible, if every officer did it on purpose to evade the law while he satisfied the demands of Government. Our own officers might learn a lesson from these Liverpool officials. Our men, it is true, have more reason to be suspicious of their customs, for there are a thousand small articles of great value to be smuggled in a hundred different ways into our country out of Europe with advantage, but the American officers can at least learn to do their duties in a gentlemanly manner, which they seldom do, at least in the city of New York. I can give an example in point. When returning from Sweden, my son imported a lot of household furniture, among which there was a large mirror, some five feet in length, with a marble stand and rose-wood feet. Though shown the bill, beside being told what the box holding it contained the inspector persisted in opening it, and this was done so roughly as to break a large piece out of one corner of the glass. But no apology was offered, nor recompense provided for but the whole subject was at once dismissed, as if it were a matter of every day's occurrence, of no earthly consequence. These English officials, on the contrary, are gentlemen, and they treat you with forbearance, with real delicacy, and with marked consideration. But to tell the whole truth, I am obliged to add, that this is more especially the case, so far as Americans are concerned, since the termination of our late civil war, which has given to all Englishmen a new impression of our importance.

One of the first things you look at, on touching the shores of England, is the character and color of the soil. But it is impossible to tell what the soil is at Liverpool in its natural state. It looks as black as that of the Mississippi bottoms, and it gives you at first sight, the idea of great fertility, but when you come to consider how many years the black soot and smoke of a myriad of chimneys have been brooding down upon it, covering the whole city and the ground it stands upon with successive layers of coal dust you wait for the solution of this particular question till you reach the open country in the neighborhood. You then turn from the soil to the personal appearance of the population and in this direction you can make comparisons without the slightest difficulty. Everything is open to your ready observation. And you are impressed with the contrast to everything you have ever seen before. More than a tenth of all you see are clad in official garments, showing that they are connected with the civil, or military, or naval department of the government. Policemen particularly abound. They wear a very dark blue coat buttoned close to the chin, and like Grimes' "all down before." The entire suit is of the same color and texture, and the whole man is surmounted by a strong round topped hat made in such a way as to shed the rain, which may be reasonably expected about every day. Then you look upon the general mass of the people as you see them moving along the streets, and your first observation is that they are in general so poorly dressed. Those riding in carriages have better apparel, but there is a coarseness about the attire of even these, which a stranger in England is never prepared to see. These are the middling classes, however. The gentry and nobility are, in Liverpool at least, seldom seen upon the streets, and then below the middle-class people, who do the business of the place you everywhere encounter a vast rabble of ragged dirty, miserable people, who live by the hardest means, and who can scarcely be said to live, in the proper sense, at all. They only exist and their existence is not for their own purposes, but for the advantage and disadvantage of other classes of the population. We have these people in our American cities but they are always foreigners, thrust upon our country by the impossibility of keeping soul and body together in their own.

As you are viewing the different classes as you see them moving and mixing on the streets, you turn to see what sort of vehicles and quadrupeds they employ, whether for business or for pleasure, and in these particulars you cannot help but make comparisons of an instructive character. You see the largest and the smallest domestic animals, used as beasts of burden, you ever saw in harness. Here is a team of six or eight of the largest horses you ever beheld, harnessed to a huge wagon, that reminds you of Noah's ark for magnitude, and which is as strong and ugly in shape as bulky, and the load piled upon it rises to a level with the second story of the houses along the streets. Right by the side of this, or running along before it, you will see perhaps a dog-team, or a donkey not much bigger than a dog, hauling twice as large a burden as such an animal with us would be deemed capable of moving, but they get over the ground somehow, and do a vast amount of this sort of labor on the streets and highways. All the vehicles used for industrial purposes are huge, heavy, ill-shaped and superlatively clumsy. It is really wonderful how the English people can adhere to the use of such horrid things when America has furnished the world with such elegant models of business wagons, but the English are a slow people, and they cling to their old ways with a pertinacity utterly surprising.

The vehicles used here for riding about in are more reasonable in structure. The two-wheeled carriages, called Hansoms after the name of their inventor, are anything but handsome, though, when they first appeared with their name and title printed on them the English newspapers accused the maker of them of not knowing how to spell one of the commonest words in the English language, but the maker's name was Hansom not Handsome, and so the newspapers had to retract their criticisms with what grace they could after so serious a blunder. To call these carts "handsome" would have been an outrage on all propriety, for an uglier or a more convenient two-wheeled conveyance it would be impossible to find out of England. The driver sits on a seat behind you, there is a sort of chaise top between you and him, he looks over your head, and over the top of your covering to drive your steed for you, little double doors, coming to your waist, shut you up within, protecting you from mud and rain, and you have an open view before you. You can add to these means of defense a glass door, which shuts down in front, and makes a tight fit to the little doors below, thus screening you entirely from wind and weather, though still preserving to you your full and unobstructed view ahead. But, with all these conveniences, the Hansom is one of the most unbeautiful contrivances that ever went on wheels. "A thing cannot be useful without being at the same time beautiful," said a philosopher once to Sidney Smith. "A hog's snout, for instance," replies the wit, which of course closed the argument. "A Hansom for instance" would have been just as good a piece of logic and it would have been in addition a burlesque, so far as the sound goes on the English language.

The next higher style of vehicle is the cab which is a four wheeled affair, the body of which swells downward, reaching nearly to the ground. On the inside it has two seats like our common city carriages with glazed or windowed doors on either side, and there is also a glass in front giving you an occasional glimpse of what lies before you by your looking forward under or by the sides of the driver's feet.

Then, rising still higher comes the hackney-coach which also stands on four massive wheels and is drawn by two stout horses, the cab having but a single horse. It is rather an easier vehicle to ride in than the two preceding and the price per mile, or by the hour is consequently a little higher as we learn by the first few trials.

Above the hackney-coach as above all these styles of carriages we behold a variety of vehicles of the same general class, such as broughams barouches, and the like, which are either open to the weather or provided with folding tops, and they so nearly resemble our own vehicles of the same style and class that they need no particular description. In these the gentry and the flourishing shop-keepers, merchants and other industrial magnates ride. Not that the poor [illegible] in England is shut out of any of the conveyances, but he is excluded by the price which in these higher styles is [illegible] more expensive than in those ranked below them.

[illegible]

But this is aristocracy. This is England—[illegible]

[illegible]

In getting out [illegible] into streets of a foreign [illegible] nothing is more natural than to look around upon these various steps of vehicles by which we are to make the next move [illegible] progress, and so I have described [illegible] at Liverpool but now comes the hotel the next necessity of a traveler. Ensconced in a good [illegible] sized hackney we drove up to the Royal Railway Hotel where I had often been before and which I had found to be very comfortable and even elegant. The English hotel is scarcely essential to describe, for their style is well known in the United States and it would require an Irishman to make the self-evident statement, that nearly all the European hotels are kept on the European plan. But we selected this one because of its nearness to the station we were to patronize next morning. One thing in particular can be said of this place of rest. That every part of it was as neat as a lady's parlor and an air of supreme comfort reigned over the whole establishment. The English hotels are not on so grand a scale as those of the United States. The poor never travel, the nobility stop with one another at their city and country residences the public houses therefore depend on the business people for support and these require comfort and convenience rather than magnificence and parade. In every house there is a dining room and a smoking room sometimes an office which are always open to the public. Everything else is private. You can take as many rooms as you like which you pay for by the day, and whatever else you have is set down to your account as you order it. But you have no opportunity to form acquaintances. With the exceptions of the rooms named, you see none of the guests of the house, unless you meet them on the stairs, or going in or out the doors. Separation exclusiveness, is the universal law in England. In the United States where we have no classes, we have common rooms, fitted up expressly for social intercourse where all the guests of the hotel may meet and become acquainted. There is nothing like this in Europe.

Here, Sir, in our inn, taking our comfort by our own sea-coal fire, or quietly reposing in our English beds, let us rest over night, and then I will tell you how we made our way to London.

Alexander H. Stephens is hardly able to sit up and not able to stand. So say the latest bulletins.

WASHINGTON NEWS

WASHINGTON, Jan 6, 1870.

PROPOSED PURCHASE OF SAN DOMINGO

Congress will have presented to it next week the important question of the acquisition of territory in the West Indies. The forthcoming message from President Grant will not simply propose a lease of the Bay of Samana for a naval station, but the acquisition of the entire Dominican republic and its incorporation into the United States as a Territory. The money to be paid by the United States for this territorial acquisition is to be devoted to the payment of its debts, and the treaty is so framed that no portion of it can be obtained by the Washington lobby.

SLOW WORK WITH THE TARIFF BILL

The ways and means committee seems to be making slow progress this week. Only part of the members are here and there [illegible] no important questions in the tariff bill are settled. The probability is that the whole thing will have to be revised after reassembling. The chairman of the committee does not speak very confidently of the chances for getting the bill through the House in the shape it is likely to have when it comes out of his room. The talk among members of Congress leads to the conclusion that there will be a good deal of pulling and hauling by the representatives of different interests.

THE NEW GOLD CERTIFICATES

United States Treasurer Spinner was to day engaged in signing the new gold certificates which amount to $1,000,000 and which will at once be forwarded to the Assistant Treasurer at New York. The new certificates are fine specimens of engraving printed on Government paper and are somewhat larger than the yellow gold certificates heretofore used. The object in using the new form is to guard against counterfeiting.

JOHNSON'S [illegible] ADMINISTRATION

There are likely to be some rather startling developments shortly about certain of [illegible] revenue officers in New York city. A partial examination of accounts shows that one of the collectors will probably prove to be over three hundred thousand dollars short.

An Havana dispatch of the 6th inst. says bodies of insurgents are reported to be moving towards [illegible] to Abajo [illegible] department. Simultaneously with the movement several well armed [illegible] Cinco Villas district. The reported object of these expeditions is to destroy the cane fields. The Knoxville (Tenn) Whig looks for a great struggle between the West and the East on the tariff question when the Western people feel sensibly the wrongs inflicted upon them. [illegible]

The New York Sun says the Fourth Ward has [illegible] aristocracy no less than Murray Hill. In fact there is constant reciprocal interchange of social material between those two localities—Murray Hill families through much drinking of liquor sinking to the Fourth Ward and the Fourth Ward families through much selling of liquor rising to Murray Hill.

Stammering and Stuttering

Treated upon a newly discovered principle

DR BURNS would inform those thus afflicted that he has discovered the origin, the local cause and effects of stammering, also a remedy, by the application of which the patient, (in a majority of cases) is enabled to speak and read with distinctness in the short space of two hours, without distress or pain to the patient.

Dr Burns, in order to give satisfaction, has adopted the following terms, viz. Should the applicant not be convinced at once of the efficacy of the remedy and decide not to avail himself of its benefits, then it will cost him nothing.

Reader, this newly discovered mode of treatment is no humbug. No charge for consultation.

Let Common Sense Decide.

What is the rational mode of procedure in cases of general debility and nervous prostration? Does not reason tell us that judicious stimulation is required. [illegible] violent purgation in such a case is as absurd as it would be to bleed a starving man. Yet it is [illegible] Yes, this stupid and unphilosophical practice is continued in the teeth of the great fact that physical weakness with all the nervous [illegible] is more certainly and rapidly relieved by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters than by any other medicine at present known. It is true that general debility is often attended with torpidity or irregularity of the bowels, and that this symptom must not be overlooked. But while the discharge of the waste matter of the system is expedited or regulated [illegible] vigor must be recruited. The Bitters do both. They combine aperient and antibilious properties with extraordinary tonic power. Even while removing [illegible] from the bowels, they tone and invigorate those organs. Through the stomach, upon which the great vegetable specific acts directly, it gives a healthy and permanent impetus to every enfeebled function. Digestion is facilitated the faltering circulation regulated the blood reinforced with a new accession of the alimentary principle, the nerves braced and all the dormant powers of the system roused into healthy action, not spasmodically as would be the case if a mere stimulant were administered but for a continuance. It is in this way that such extraordinary changes are wrought in the condition of the feeble, emaciated and nervous invalids by the use of this wonderful corrective alterative and tonic. Let common sense decide between such a preparation and a prostrating cathartic supplemented by a poisonous astringent like strychnine or quinia.

FROM WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7

Gov Burbank of Dacotah Territory forwards to the Indian officers a report announcing the killing, on the 3d of November, of three Arickarees, one man and two women and the wounding of a young girl, by Sioux supposed to belong to the Grant River agency. The party had been gathering fuel six miles above the village and were floating down the river in a boat, when they were fired upon from the bank by a large war party of Sioux. After killing the Indian party fired the prairie at many place down as far as Knife River, thus driving all the game out of the country and destroying the pasturage for the herds this winter. The damage caused by the raid will amount to $10,000

Official information has been received at the Indian Bureau denying the reported murder of a white man by Indians in the vicinity of Shaw, Montana Territory, in the latter part of September last. The murder was committed by white men. The various statements of Indian disturbances in that territory since that time are characterized as without any foundation

It is understood that $1,500,000 has already been paid for the lease of Samana, over which the United States have jurisdiction

There is no doubt that the President will send to the Senate, probably on Monday, a secret massage with a treaty for the annexation of San Domingo. The sum of a million and a half dollars is proposed to be given for public buildings, this being the entire expense of the transaction. The country is to be annexed as a territory and not as a State

MURDER AND LYNCHING

ATKINSON, Kansas, Jan 7

On Friday last Patrick Cox, a well known farmer of this county, was shot and dangerously wounded by a negro named Johnson, who was arrested and lodged in jail in default of $1500 bail. On Tuesday a mob of people from Mount Pleasant and Walnut Townships came to this city and took Johnson from the jail and hung him. The outrage is bitterly denounced by the press and citizens generally and strong efforts are being made to ferret out the perpetrators. The city council passed resolutions denouncing the action of the mob and ordered the city attorney to assist the county in the prosecution of the persons engaged in the mob, when caught

In the Lewis habeas corpus case to-day the matter of settling the order Mr Lewis asked for a postponement until Saturday, on the grounds that the Senior Counsel associated with him, Judge Birdseye, was fulfilling an engagement to attend a funeral, but would like to be present at the settlement of the order

Mr Crosby asked that the settlement be postponed until 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, adding that Judge Birdseye had some thing to present relative to the order, the nature of which he (Mr Crosby) was ignorant. Mr Howe opposed but after much discussion Judge Cordoza allowed the postponement asked, but said it was not likely that the order would be changed

THE ALBANY AND SUSQUEHANNA R R WAR

NEW YORK, Jan 7

The Albany and Susquehanna Railroad war has broken out afresh. Parties to the suit whose interests were injuriously affected by the recent decisions by Judge Smith have given notice that they will move at the special term of the Supreme Court to be held at Albion, Orleans county, on the 3d Monday of January, 1870, to set aside all proceedings upon the judgment of Judge Smith and to require Robert L Banks to retake possession of the property

The chief grounds for the motion are that the judgement is not a final determination of the rights of the parties in action, was entered without due notice to any of the parties adversely interested, and that it fails to determine the validity of the 9500 shares of stock subscribed by Ramsey and others in August, 1869, as also were the stockholders entitled to vote at the election of September last and the validity of the contract made with Groesbeck & Co for 2400 shares of stock. The papers were served to-day. The affidavits are numerous and lengthy

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

Col Hurlbert has entered the lists of the U S Senatorship from Georgia.

Horace Greeley went down among the soakers of the "Bloody Fourth," in New York, Thursday evening, and talked temperance with such effect that numerous hard cases came forward and signed the pledge.

General George B. McClellan called last week on the President, Secretary of War, and General Sherman, and was cordially received by each of them. He was accompanied by his father-in-law, Gen Marcy

Gov James L Ashley, of Montana, writes to Washington that if he can secure a hearing he can satisfy the Administration that he has been grossly and scandalously maligned.

The Selma (Ala.) Messenger is enraptured with Mr. Mungen's repudiation speech. It says "the debt will never be paid," and "there are millions of tax-payers who will in the next Presidential election demand that it be scaled or wiped out." And it "honors" Mr Mungen for having "the moral courage to speak his honest sentiments" thus showing that there is "at least one member of Congress claiming to be a Democrat who is a Democrat on principle."

—The Portland Argus says that Wednesday evening about nine o'clock a man whose name we did not ascertain was assaulted and knocked senseless on Portland bridge, and robbed of $116. He received two very severe cuts on the head.

The survey embraces the following route To East Auburn, to Turner, to the right of Turner Hill to North Turner, to Brettun's Mills, to Canton's Mill's, striking the Androscoggin River opposite Canton Point, thence following the river through Peru to Dixfield thence to Mexico Corner and thence to Rumford Falls. The entire route is 48½ miles — The feasibility of the proposed road becomes more and more apparent, and the desire to have it constructed more earnest

DAMAGE BY THE GALE IN BELFAST — We learn from the Age that the late gale did considerable damage to the shipping in Belfast harbor, the sea breaking over several of the wharves. Schr Idella Small, Small, of Deer Isle, late from Baltimore with a cargo of corn, belonging to Wm C Marshall, was laying at Lane's wharf with balance of cargo undischarged (27,000 bushels), just aft of Schr J T Merriman. She was lifted nearly to the top of the wharf, and in falling, her bowsprit caught on the stern of the Merriman and was broken short off. She finally sprung a leak and sunk. The corn has since been discharged in a damaged state, and been sold at auction at 48 cents. The cargo was insured, but no insurance on the vessel. The Schr J T Merriman was considerably damaged. Schr James Jewett and schr Castelane laying broadside to broadside in the dock rolled so heavily that their spars and rigging were in frequent contact and the crosstrees of the former were carried away and both otherwise damaged. Brig Benj Carver laying at McGilvery's wharf struck upon the rocks knocking out a portion of her keel and starting out water and stern-post and was quite badly damaged. Schr Oak Grove, fisherman broke from her moorings and came in contact with some other vessel and was considerably damaged

—The Bath Times says that Frank G Moses, Esq., has commenced building the Ferry Boat for the Knox & Lincoln Railroad

AN INTERESTING CASE

BELFAST, Jan 5, 1870

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier

In the Supreme Court now being held at this place the trial of the case Georgianna Stickney vs Axel Hayford commenced to-day. The action is to recover damages from the defendant for an alleged false imprisonment and for publicly charging the plaintiff with gross lewdness, and was originally brought in September, 1869. The case has been once tried and a verdict of upwards of $3,000 rendered which was set aside and a new trial granted. It is a case which excites much interest here, Mr. Hayford being Mayor of the city and one of the most prominent men in this section

The counsel for the plaintiff Hon A G Jewett, carried consternation into the public schools by summoning some twenty or thirty of the pupils to testify to the good character of the plaintiff, who was at the time of the commencement of this action a pupil of one of the city schools, in good standing, being then about fifteen years of age. but those who have run away through fear of the court will all be back in their places to-morrow, for Judge Cutting, who is presiding, ruled that no such testimony would be admissible until an attempt was made to impeach her character, whereupon Gen. Nickerson, counsel for the defendant, stated that no such attempt would be made.

In his opening, Gen. Nickerson claimed that notwithstanding the chastity of the plaintiff was now admitted, if from the character of the sisters and of the house in which plaintiff was living, the defendant had probable cause to believe the plaintiff guilty of what he charged her and had acted under mistaken information it should be considered in mitigation of damages, and said that he would introduce testimony to show the character of the house. But the judge ruled that such testimony would be inadmissible the plaintiff not being responsible for the character of her sisters ... [illegible] ... he acted at his peril and would be responsible for his acts

[A special dispatch from our correspondent in Belfast says the jury find defendant guilty and assess damages $750.]

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE BANGOR CHILDRENS' HOME FOR 1869

SECRETARY'S REPORT

Ladies —In the report ... for 1867, a new and comfortable home for the orphans was spoken of as being in the dim perspective, but time has ... [illegible]

Though begun in 1868 the corner stone being laid on the ... of September ... work of finishing ... [illegible] ... the opening ... had grown ... [illegible]

On Wednesday, Oct ... the Children's Home was appropriately ... [illegible] ... the Saturday following the family took possession of their new abode

An appeal made early in November was answered by a generous supply of food and clothing ... [illegible] ... was indeed a Merry Christmas, when that day came and they gathered in the afternoon round the beautifully decorated tree ... through the thoughtfulness of Mr. G. W. Merrill ... [illegible] ... whom we tender grateful thanks

At the beginning of the year there were connected with the institution twenty six children twenty four girls and two boys

[illegible]

Total number benefitted ... 49

This leaves thirty four children,—twenty nine girls and five boys now in the Home—Various changes have taken place in those having charge of the children. During the summer and early in the fall, affairs were in a very unsettled state the most desirable help could not be procured at once nor could it be determined what was most to be desired till the family should be settled under their new roof. In October, Miss Fifield, the matron went home and Mrs Hinds, one eminently fitted for the position, came in her stead, and an able corps of assistants has also bee procured one of them, Miss Webber having been connected with the institution in 1869

The health of the children during the past year has been good and no death has occurred, though the measles appeared in the spring, and the chicken pox in the fall — Your thanks are due to Dr Jefferds for gratuitous medical attendance and to Messrs Alden and Harlow, for medicine and other articles

Among the donations for the year may be mentioned twenty-five dollars from the Bangor Cornet Band, one hundred dollars from Hon. Lewis Barker of Stetson, fifty dollars from Mr S H. Dale, for the purpose of purchasing books for the library, which sum was raised to one hundred by Mrs. G. K. Jewett and Mrs. L. Mench. Many books have since been given by various friends and Mr. E. F. Duren increased ... [illegible] ... The Youth's Library, ... [illegible] ... to the Youth's Companion, a weekly paper. A large play house was given by Dole & Fogg and A T Stewart, through their agent gave twenty-eight boxes of thread with three spools in a box. No less acceptable are the donations received and recorded from month to month of household articles, clothing, fruit and vegetables sent from all parts of the city. Various reductions on bills are gratefully acknowledged. We are indebted to the editors of the Whig and Courier for advertising at various times without charge. The Jeffersonian has been received and enjoyed during the year. Also to Mr G A Bartlett, for Oliver Optic Harpers Magazine, also free access to their Circulating Library. Also to Mr Paine for books with New Church Magazine

The state of our finances is, in general very pleasing. While the amount received from subscribers, as taken from the Treasurer's report $498,7 falls a little below the sum received from the same last year, the State aid is increased, being $450 and our expense have been a little less than they were in 1868. The interest of the fund becomes available this coming year and will be about twenty two hundred dollars. Though these statements are encouraging let no one suppose we can do without his or her aid in the future. Every day brings some new case for ... and the ... will find the number of children greatly increased. The increase of State aid over last year is in reality no increase of income for the additional amount only denotes a large number of children received and ... children from the families of soldiers. In the report of a similar institution in South Boston ... [illegible] ... interest by becoming annual subscribers ... [illegible] ... the Childrens Home

Written for the Whig & Courier

DROWNED

Ships are tossing at sea
And ships sail in to the windy cliffs of the shore;
But the ship that is dearest to me
Will never come in with the tide—
Will ripple the bay no more.
Riding in with the tide

Under the froth of the foam,
And the yeasty surge and the shuddering gusts of rain,
Lies a lad who will never come home,
His white face hid in the sand
He neither has care or pain
Under the sea-weed and sand

Down by the reefs and the shells,
Far down by the channels that furrow the dolorous deep,
Where the torn sails rise with the swells
And swing in the pulse of the sea,
He is only sleeping a sleep,
Down in the sorrowful sea.

Above him the rack and the drift,
The red lit east and the dark glow in the west,
The currents that change and shift
And the rain blown face of the storm,
There's nothing but silence and rest
Under the beat of the storm.

Tangled in rigging and ropes,
And fenced by the wreck of spar and the ruin of mast
The purple sea-plant gropes
And wanders over my dead.
He shall wake and rise at last
When the sea gives up its dead

So in the dark and the dawn,
In the gloom of keels and the shadow of home-bound ships
My mariner slumbers on,
While I m awake and forlorn,
With a weary song on my lips
Out of my heart forlorn

TRYING FOR A SCHOOL. A gentleman from Swampville was telling how many different occupations he had attempted Among others he had tried school teaching

"How long did you teach?" asked a by stander

"Wal, I didn't teach long, that is, I only went to hire out."

'Why did you give up?"

"Wal, I giv up for some reason or nuther you see I traveled into a deestrict and inquired for the trustees. Sombody said Mr Snickles was the man I wanted to see So I found Mr Snickles—named my object, interduced myself, and I axed him what he thought about letting me try my luck with the boys and the unruly gals in the deestrict. He wanted to know if I raally considered myself capable, and I said I wouldn't mind his asking me a few questions in 'rithmetic, jography, or showing my handwriting—He said 'no, never mind, he couuld tell a good teacher by his gait.'"

'Let me see you walk off a little ways' said he, and I can tell jis's well's I'd examined you."

"He sot in the door as he spoke, and I tho't he looked a little skittish, but I was considerably frustrated and didn't mind much, so I turned round and walked on as smart as I knowed how He said he'd tell me when to stop, so I kept on till I thought I'd gone fur enough, then I s'pected s'thing was to pay, and looked round. Wal, the door was shet and Snickles was gone"

JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT!

CURES A

Great Variety of Diseases,

SUCH AS

Consumption in its first stages and all Difficulties of the Throat and Lungs, also, Spinal Diseases and Kidney Troubles Diphtheria, Coughs Colds Influenza, Bronchitis, Asthma Whooping Cough, Cramp and Pain in the Stomach, Bowels or Side, Rheumatism Chronic Diarrhœa, and Dysentery

Read the following certificate from Deacon John Hodgkins of Jefferson Me

SOUTH JEFFERSON ME

In May, 1866 our agent met with Deacon John Hodgkins of South Jefferson Me who related the following astonishing cure effected by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment He said —Some time ago my son was taken sick with a serious lung difficulty which threatened to end in quick consumption We immediately summoned our family physician who attended him faithfully for about four weeks during which time he gradually grew weaker Becoming very much alarmed about himself and being satisfied that he was growing worse all the time, he finally refused to take any more medicine from the physician and expressed a wish to try Johnson's Anodyne Liniment I immediately told the physician expecting that he would object to his using it but he did not He said Let him try it it won't hurt him and may do him some good

He did try it, and continued its use some time taking it inwardly and bathing the chest and lungs outwardly Very soon he began to improve gradually gaining strength until at last we had the satisfaction of knowing that the foundation of his disease was broken up

My son is alive and well to-day possessing a strong and vigorous constitution which we attribute under God to the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment I can further say that I never allow myself to get out of the article, and that in my judgment it is the best family medicine in the world

KIDNEY COMPLAINT

[illegible] this distressing disease has been alarming [illegible] the last few years and is proving [illegible] of human happiness and in some cases of human life. It is not confined to old or middle aged but is quite as frequent among children and young people as any other class One of the most effectual remedies known for this dreadful complaint is Johnson's Anodyne Liniment It has never failed as yet as we have abundant proof to show We refer with pleasure to the following letter from H D Hutchins Esq a gentleman and a merchant well and thoroughly known in Fryeburg Oxford County Me , where he resides

FRYEBURG March 8 1867

MESSRS I S JOHNSON & CO

Dear Sirs —In the fall of 1856, I was attacked with a violent pain through my back and kidneys which laid me up for more than a year I consulted the best physicians in the county and Portland Some pronounced it kidney, some spinal disease After being under their treatment six or eight months and receiving no particular benefit, I was advised by a friend to try your liniment On taking part of a bottle it brought away, in my water, something similar to the filings of steel, which relieved me in part, and, by continuing to take it for three months or more, I was completely cured. I most heartily recommend it as the best family medicine I ever used With pleasure I send you the foregoing statement. You can make such use of it as you deem proper

Respectfully yours,

H D HUTCHINS

The foregoing statement may be relied upon, not only as coming from a gentleman who thoroughly understands his own case, but one who has sold and watched the operation of our liniment for more than twenty-five years

SPINAL DISEASES CAN BE CURED

Don't fail to read the following statement of facts,—

Remarkable cure of a most obstinate case of spinal difficulty effected by Johnson's Anodyne Liniment

Mr Farrington now of the firm of Hutchinson & Farrington, Burnham, Waldo County Me was for four years unable to do a day's work or attend to business of any kind during which time he suffered from those excruciating pains along the spine which rarely fail to accompany the spinal disease Having suffered long and tried many remedies without receiving much benefit he began to despair of ever being able to attend to the most simple duties of life At length being advised he tried Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and very soon saw that he was being benefitted which induced him to persevere in its use until he had used fifteen bottles which so far restored him to health as to enable him to begin life anew The writer of this saw Mr Farrington [illegible] March 1867 and received the facts as above stated with permission to publish If there are persons who would like to make particular inquiries of Mr Farrington relative to his difficulty they are invited to address him [illegible] entitled to great consideration on account of the [illegible] of the case and coming [illegible] whom we all know to be [illegible]

CHRONIC DIARRHŒA

The following statement of William Clark Esq is entitled to great credit [illegible] full attested as [illegible] without any [illegible] our part or even knowledge [illegible] in contemplation

MR I S JOHNSON Dear Sir I was attacked with the diarrhœa in the year 1848 [illegible] the many medicines that were recommended [illegible] for that complaint but they had no effect whatever Then I applied to different doctors both in this State and in Massachusetts They could not help me I was reduced to most a skeleton and through the goodness of Providence I was told of your Anodyne Liniment I commenced taking it [illegible] Spring of 1852 and found it helped me [illegible] used the use of it until I had taken nine bottles I am now perfectly cured, and over fifty pounds heavier than last summer I give you these lines that you may publish them if you see fit for the benefit of the suffering community I think it one of the best medicines that the world affords If any one should think this a humbug please inquire of my neighbors here there are plenty that will testify to the truth of the case I purchased the Liniment of Mr A Merrill of this place The undersigned would further testify, that he thinks the Liniment was the whole means, through the blessing of God, of saving my life I weighed in the spring of 1852 a hundred and thirty two pounds, I now weigh a hundred and eighty nine pounds and a half

CAN BE CURED BY JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT

Read the following certificate from one of our own [illegible] respected fellow citizens —

BANGOR, Feb 29, 1862

MR JOHNSON Dear Sir,—For more than two years I have been afflicted with that distressing complaint Chronic Diarrhœa have been treated for it by some of the best physicians in this city and other places but without any good result, had lost my appetite lost my strength, not able to perform any kind of labor and found I must soon be a burden to myself and to my family About three months since I was urged by a friend to try Johnson's Anodyne Liniment and did so without much hope or expectation of being benefitted, but I must say, as soon as I began to take it, I began to feel better, and I am now well and strong, can eat my allowance of most any kind of food without causing me any distress We have used it in our family for colds and Internal Pains and I do think it the best family medicine I ever saw I live on Fourth Street in the city of Bangor and would be glad to tell anybody how much benefit I have received

JAMES PENDERGAST

Another of our citizens sends us the following —

BANGOR, FEBRUARY, 1862

MR. JOHNSON Dear Sir —We have used your Anodyne Liniment in our family for years and it is almost the only medicine we do use, and we use this This winter my little son, about six years old, had a severe attack of DIPTHERIA; and we cured him by giving him your Anodyne Liniment. It quieted him, relieved his breathing, and prevented spasms when nothing else did. We think it the BEST MEDICINE for this fearful and fatal disease, and for all Coughs and Colds I have used the Anodyne Liniment as an external application for Rheumatic Swelling in my Limbs, with astonishing and gratifying results I wish everybody knew the worth of the Anodyde Liniment as a family medicine

HIRAM ODLIN

VALUABLE TESTIMONY

IN FAVOR OF SHERIDAN'S CAVALRY CONDITION POWDERS

We regard the following as the most valuable testimony which we have to produce to show the value of our Powders over all others, and the importance of giving them freely to horses that labor constantly —

DEC 7, 1865

Our travelling agent called upon Messrs S W Pope & Co , lumber merchants, Machias Me , and tried to sell them some of our Sheridan's Horse Powders, but they refused to buy them, stating first that they did not believe that they were any good and, secondly, that they had some of another kind on hand, which they could neither use or sell on account of their worthlessness Our agent deeming it important that they should have them, (knowing that they employed a large number of horses in their business) proposed to leave them three (3) dozen, with the understanding that they should use them and, if not entirely satisfied, they were to pay nothing for them The Messrs Pope & Co accepted the proposition and took the Powders In June, six months after, our agent again visited them, when they cheerfully paid for the three (3) dozen left conditionally, and bought five (5) dozen more In December following, just twelve months from date of leaving the first three (3) dozen on his return from the Provinces, our agent sold them eight (8) dozen more, making SIXTEEN (16) dozen sold them for cash, in just one year We avail ourselves of this opportunity to publicly thank the Messrs Pope & Co for their generosity in permitting us the use of their names, for certainly there are none more widely or favorably known and none that would be of more advantage to us in point of influence

AN HONEST DOUBTER CONVINCED

In February 1866, our agent called upon Capt Charles Sager, who keeps the largest and best stock of let horses in the city of Portland Me and tried to sell him a sample dozen of our 'Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, but the captain stubbornly refused to buy, and would not even receive them on trial, with the option to pay or not, as he pleased, remarking that he could make a Condition Powder himself that would answer his purpose, besides he had some of another kind on hand, that he used occasionally. So our agent contented himself with putting up a poster in his office gave him a package of the Powders, and departed Just one year later, Capt Sager went to the City Hotel, met our agent, and, without solicitation, bought for cash, 12 dozen of the Cavalry Powders, and volunteered the use of his name, in any way that would tend to increase their field of usefulness

All who know Capt Sager and have done business with him will unite with us in saying that he is one of the most candid, reliable, and gentlemanly horsemen in the State of Maine and his opinion on this as well as on other subjects in any way connected with horses, is entitled to great consideration

WHAT THEY ARE FOR.

'Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders' should be given to horses in all cases for loss of Appetite, Roughness of the Hair Stoppage of Bowels or Water or Thick Water, all Coughs and Colds, Swelling of Throat, Worms Horse-ail, Hide bound, Thick Wind, and Heaves They are equally good for diseases of horned cattle and sheep, young colts or horses fitting for market may be greatly improved, and very much enhanced in value, by the use of these powders

Old horses almost worn out and apparently worthless may be rejuvenated and made to do a reasonable amount of service, by the use of the Cavalry Condition Powders' Most horses are subject to worms, and while they exist in a horse he cannot thrive the food that should strengthen and nourish the animal is absorbed by the worms, hence the horse will have a great appetite and continually grow poor

SYMPTOMS —Hide bound, coat stares, eyes dull and glaring, great appetite &c Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders' will positively relieve the worst cases

There is no man, or set of men, that can use these Powders on a horse no matter how (apparently) well he may be, without admitting that the horse has been benefitted in my times the value of the powders given In support of the above statement, we ask attention to the following —

The undersigned, having experienced great benefits resulting from a frequent use of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders" for horses, cheerfully permit the use of their names in recommending them to be (in their opinion) the best thing of the kind now in the market

CIRCULAR SAW,

With Movable or Inserted Teeth.

We claim for our Patent Circular Saw the following advantages over all others

The shanks of the teeth are elastic and exert a uniform distension in the sockets

The stability of the plate is in no way affected by inserting new sets of teeth

Each tooth, independently, may be adjusted to the cutting line

No rivits, keys or other objectionable appliances are employed in connection with the teeth which are as simple in construction, and as easily used as a nut for a bolt

In short, all the difficulties heretofore experienced in the use of movable teeth for saws, are fully met and obviated by this invention
